The ETA and the preparation of the DoP

What information can be used for the DoP?

- The product-type(s)
- The performance table for each product-type with the EAD and ETA references to prepare the declared performance table in the DoP
- The assessment and verification … system(s) and the third party tasks

On this basis, the manufacturer will know how many DoPs are necessary for his product(s) and easily gather/extract all the necessary information
